

April 6, 2020

Dear NAPLA Members,

I hope that this email finds you and your loved ones healthy.

By now you know that PLANC's 2020 Conference in New Orleans has been postponed until June 14-17, 2021. The six APLAs, including NAPLA, agreed to this move although it means that it will not be feasible for NAPLA to hold its June 2021 conference hosted by the University of Richmond School of Law in Virginia. Our next NAPLA Conference will be held in June 2022 with more details to follow.

The NAPLA Board's most immediate task is creating programming for our members in the interim. While programming development has been a component of our strategic planning process this year, the need is now more urgent. If you have thoughts about what type of programming or services would be useful to at this time, or ideas about what you would like NAPLA to offer, please email me at napla.org@gmail.com.